WALL STREET,
TUESDAY, Dec. 12—6 P. M. }

SUSPENSION OF THE OCEAN BANK.

The Ocean Bank, which for some time past had been debtor at the Clearing House, was thrown out of the Clearing House this morning by resolution of the special Committee on Suspensions, which action was subsequently ratified at a meeting of the Clearing House Association. Mr. Huriburd, the Comptroller of the Currency, happening to be in House, ordered the bank to suspend business as a matter of justice to all its various depositors. The particulars of the whole affair will be given at length elsewhere in our columns, inclusive of the statement of a member of the Committee of Investigation that among the papers of the institution were found checks for $76,000 drawn by Mr. Collender, the National Bank Examiner of this district. In view of the position held by this official and his relations to the national banks as a supervisory agent watching the interests of the public, no little surprise was manifested in Wall street a the fact of his indebtedness to the institution. Doubless Mr. Collender can explain the matter satisfactorily; but this afternoon the feeling was strong that he should, under the circumstances, resign the office of Bank Examiner.

MONEY STRINGENT. The money market was stringent, and the lowest rate was 7 per cent to some of the more favored government dealers. The stock brokers were in some instances accommodated at 7, coin, but the bulk of business in stocks was at 7 per cent, plus a commission of 1-32 a 1-16 per cent. Bank accounts were again late, many not being made up until near four o'clock, and borrowers who were out in quest of funds after three o'clock paid 1-19 a % per cent until about half-past three o'clock, when there was a rather better supply at 1-32 and interest, at which

The stock market was the scene of a hot battle "bears." The "bears," pressing the advantage of stringent money and being temporarily assisted by the apprehensions excited by the failure of the Ocean Bank, made a vigorous attack early in the day and succeeded in getting the market down about % per cent; but it soon eluded their efforts to control it and rapidly turned in the upward direction, the advance late in the day being sufficient not only to recover all the decline of the morning, but to put prices to the highest figures made since the Chicago ant, in consequence of a report that the "bears," discouraged by their numerous faltures to break up" money to the banks. #### ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH FAIR.

A Brilliant Display-Grand Collection of Fancy Articles-Pleasant Promonding and Scientific Sciling-The Object of the Fair. The fair at St. Stephen's church opened on Mon-day evening with every prospect of being a brilliant success. For a first evening the attendance was very large, and had the advantage of being neither idle nor ungenerous, but proved itself a sympathetic and charitable assemblage, who had come to give, and gave. Much of the pleasure of Monday evening was due to the organist of the church, Mr. Danforth, under whose direction a select or-of the promenade. As for the tables, they displayed collections of almost every conceivable article of a fancy sort, while the more solid and costly presents fancy sort, while the more solid and costly presents of the wealthy members of St. Stephen's parish presented themselves in profusion as tempting objects to the admiring visitors. While it must be admirted that the visitors to the rair were mostly ladies, of all ages, from tiny youth to venerable old age, it is but right to add that lovers of the beautiful—a la mode blonde or brunette—could not fail to be bewildered by the succession of such a pleasant panorama as the promenade provided. Yesterday the tables were even in more elaborate order than on the preceding evening, and a richness and exquisite taste were everywhere visible in the hall. The usual persistent efforts at money-making were also more marked among the ladies. Where there are so many thousands of articles so worthy of praise it would be invidious so soon to particularize some objects rather than others, and therefore each table is left to care for itself, without special comment. But it is worth while to reier to the noble object for which the lair has been gotten up. During the years the Rev. Dr. McGlynn has been pastor of St. Siephen's, while he has given to his parish a most-splendid temple of worship, he has not been unmindful of the Poor, the unforted temple of worship, he has not been unmindful of the Poor, the unfortable wants not hitherto supplied; to bestow shelter where cold contempt had been before the response, and to take under the kindest protection orphan children. To accomplish these things needed the establishment of institutions have not only forbidden the idea of abandoning now the undertakings already entered into, but render necessary an ealarged sphere of action and consequent expenses. For the necessary working of the several asylums in the parish debts have been incurrent; and it is to clear of these that the fair is especially commended as an agreeable way to do chartiable deeds. The fair will continue several asylums in the parish debts have been incurrent; and it is to clear of these that the fair is especially commend of the wealthy members of St. Stephen's parish pre-

DENNINGER'S DUGS.

An Impecunious Amateur Tries to Obtain Serreptitions Possession of the Finest Dogs

in the Country. The human race has from time immemorial entertained a keen predilection for the canine race, and the rivalry for the possession of choice speci mens of the latter has given rise to angry passions and bitter contentions among the former. A striking illustration of this propensity was presented yesterday at Essex Market Police Court, and Instice Leawith's aid was invoked to settle the dispute.

Christian Denninger, a ponderous Teuton, attired in crimson-hued comforter and bandanna handkerchief, had arraigne I one William Koch on a charge of appropriating to his own use and behoot a rare spe-cimen of the breed known as builded and two of her tender and promising offspring, all the property of the complainant, and reared under his fostering care. Christian, proad of his treasures, was fond of ex-hibiting them to admiring friends, and among the rest Koch was favored with the privilege of inspect-ing the brood and handling their dainty forms. Unifortunately for both himself and the owner no was and but too well appreciated their many fine points. He gazed in rapture on their manifold beauties, felt their teeth, weighed them and pronounced them superb of their kind.

The next morning Christian awoke to the terrible knowledge that his pets had vanished. In the first moments of returning reason the suspicion flashed upon him that Koch-Koch, the subtle, designing villain, who had so insidously praised and caressed willain, who had so insidiously praised and caressed the lost ones—was the perpetrator of the foul wrong. Specimg on the wings of the wind to the tribune of justice, he told his tale to the sympatizing zoophilist, Officer Willard, who was at once armed with a warrant and despatched after the alloged dog thiel. Willard's breast swelled with the importance of the sacred trust confided to him.

CRUSHED BY RAIL CARS.

An inquest was yesterday held at the City Hall by Coroner Keenan on the body of the unknown man who was run over in Fourth avenue, near Forty-sixth street, last Saturday evening by a freight train of cars belonging to the New Haven Railroad Company. The testimony showed that deceased was attempting to get on one of the middle cars of the train, and in doing so fell before the wheel, which passed over him and must have been almost instanuty kiled, his body being horribly mutilated. The jury rendered a verdict of accidental death. It is quite common for both boys and men to jump on the freight trains and ride to Harlem, as they are not called upon to pay fare. No one has yet appeared to identify and claim the remains of deceased for informent. who was run over in Fourth avenue, near Forty-
